

Let's build a financial system for working families, White Black & Brown, not big Wall Street banks and billionaires.

Why Wall Street?

Since the financial crisis, big Wall Street banks like Wells Fargo and Goldman Sachs have extracted billions in windfall gains for themselves through lower taxes, looser rules, and deliberately weakened oversight of their questionable business practices. Their gains come at the expense of our communities, white Black and brown, through unaffordable housing, mass incarceration and over-policing, diploma mills, predatory loans, unlivable wages, and senseless job layoffs.

We are stepping up the fight to curb the big banks' influence in Washington and our economy. The important work of defending the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform Act must not be the end of the story. We need to do more to build a financial system that works for most Americans, not against them.

Take on Wall Street is a campaign supported by a coalition of over 50 national organizations -- including Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Center for Popular Democracy, Action Center on Race and the Economy, and Americans for Financial Reform -- organized around moving a financial reform agenda to address the predatory economic power of big banks & billionaires and build a financial system for working people. We are energizing the base through activist trainings and conducting civic engagement to make sure voters are aware of candidates' records on curbing Wall Street's influence in Washington.

Legislative Priorities

We are pushing to separate commercial banking from investment banking so there is a firewall between banks handling your savings and Wall Street traders; implement a public option for basic banking at the post office; enact a sales tax on Wall Street trades; end stock "buybacks" that enrich corporate executives at the expense of workers, the company, and the economy; eliminate the CEO bonus tax loophole for all executives; close the revolving door between Wall Street and Washington; and eliminate the 'carried interest loophole, which allows financial executives to pay lower tax rates than most salaried workers, among other pressing reforms.

- 21st Century Glass Steagall Act of 2017 (H.R. 2585/S. 881) & Return to Prudent Banking Act of 2017 (H.R. 790)
  - Ends "Too Big to Fail" by breaking up the Wall Street mega banks, and separating "boring" depository banking from risky investment banking – making them smaller, simpler, and safer.
- Inclusive Prosperity Act of 2017 (H.R. 1144/S. 805) & Putting Main Street FIRST: Finishing Irresponsible Reckless Speculative Trading Act of 2017 (H.R. 2306)
  - Tax Wall Street trades to discourage short-term bets that destabilize markets and generate billions in new revenue for services our communities need.

- Carried Interest Fairness Act of 2017 (H.R. 2295/S. 1020)
  - Closes the carried interest loophole which currently allows billionaire Wall Street money managers to pay lower tax rates than nurses or construction workers.
- Stop Subsidizing Multimillion Dollar Corporate Bonuses Act of 2017 (H.R. 399/S. 82)
  - Closes the CEO Bonus loophole, which allows corporations to deduct CEO salaries above 1 million dollars from their taxable-income.
- Financial Services Conflict of Interest Act of 2017 (H.R. 859/S. 265)
  - Combats conflicts of interest by ending “golden parachute” payouts and the revolving door between Wall Street and Washington
- Reward Work Act of 2018 (H.R. 6096/S. 2605)
  - Stops allowing corporate executives to buy back billions of their own stock, juice share prices, and pass on cash to executives and wealthy shareholders.
- Expand access to fair consumer banking services through "a public option" like postal banking and public banks.
- For the People Act of 2019 (H.R. 1)
  - Restores voting rights to millions, cracks down on dark money in elections (including from the big Wall Street banks), and closes the revolving door between industry and Washington.
